IS BLAINE SINCERE?

Republicans Discussing the Meaning of His Letter.

His Friends Say It Did Not Surprise Them.

Senator Halo Declares that the Man from Maine Does Not Desire to be President-Senator Hawley Believes Him in Earnest -Sherman's Chances Declared to be Improved by the Withdrawal-Effect on the Party's Prospects this Year.

he letter of James G. Blaine to B. F. Jos es, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, in which Mr. Blaine says that his name will not be presented at the coming Chicago Convention, has created much exement and talk among Republicans and emocrats. In fact the letter is the principal opic of conversation to-day in Wall street, business centres, at clubs, hotels and ablic resorts.

Mr. Blaine says that he has decided not to s a candidate for the nomination through nsiderations entirely personal to himself. He does not say that he would absolutely reuse a renomination if it were unanimously endered and urged upon him, but conveys the impression that he will not seek the office ad that he has withdrawn from the Presidential contest.

Mr. Blaine releases all his friends from further allegiance to him, urges harmony in the grand old party and advises its leaders to make protection to American industry the paramount issue of the campaign. Here are extracts from Mr. Blaine's letter:

extracts from Mr. Blaine's letter:

One thing only is necessary to assure success—
complete harmony and cordial co-operation on the part of all Republicans—on the part both of those who aspire to lead and of those who are eager to follow. The duty is not one merely of nonrable devotion to the party whose record and whose aims are alike great, but it is one demanded by the institut of self-interest and by the still higher promptings of patriotism.

A closer observation of the conditions of life among the older sations gives me a more intense desire that the American people shall make no mistake in choosing the policy which inspires labor with hope and crowns it with dignity, which gives safety to capital and protects its increase, which secures political power to every citizen, comfort and culture to every home. To this end, not less earnesily, and more directly, as a private citizen that has as a public candidate, I shall devote myself with the confident belief that the administration of the Government will be restored to the power to wield it for the unity and the honor of the Republic, for the prosperity and progress of the people.

Many of the distingnished Republicans.

Many of the distinguished Republicans, Meny of the distinguished Republicans, Senators and Congressmen who attended the recent Republican Club banquet at Delmonico's have left the city. A number of prominent members of the party, who were seen to-day by Evening World reporters, gave their opinions of the letter.

Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine, was at the Brevoort House, but was in a hurry to get downtown when spoken to. He said he had read the letter and upon being asked if the manifesto was a surprise to him he replied:

"No, because I have known of Mr. Blaine's intentions for some time. His letter is not, therefore, a surprise to me. Mr. Blaine is very popular in New Hampshire and our delegates would have gone to the convention in his favor.

"Let me ask you a question. Does he say in his letter that he would refuse the nomination and unanimous wish of the party?"

The ex-Governor of New Hampshire was being read and reread by men who were asking that same question. personal knowledge, he has no desire to be President."

George B. Loring, of Massachusetts, was seen at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Mr. Loring also said that Mr. Blaine's letter did not surprise him.

"The opinions Mr. Blaine expresses in his letter," said Mr. Loring, "are the same he expressed to me over a year ago. He has frequently told me that he would not be a candate, and that when the time arrived he ould inform his friends of his determination. There is no doubt of Mr. Blaine's sin-

"You were in favor of his renomination?"
"Yes, and I have thought and still think that he would be our strongest possible candidate. I regret that he has not reconsidered his determination to withdraw his name, but instead has come out publicly in announcing his position, which has for a long time been known to his personal friends and political associates.

"Is he popular in Massachusetts?"

"Very popular, and I am certain that he would have been supported by the solid delegation from Massachusetts."

"Who will now loom up as Presidential candidates?"

"The Republican party is rich in available."

"The Republican party is rich in available men. There's Allison, of Iowa: John Sher-man and J. B. Foraker, of Ohio; Gen. Sheri-dan, Gen. Hawley. Benjamin Harrison and many others I could mention."

WARNER MILLER'S IDEA OF THE PUBLIC REASONS. Ex-Senator Warner Miller said: "In my pinion Mr. Blaine has concluded that his nomination would not harmonize all the facto minimation would not harmonize all the fac-tions of the party. He may not have desired to enter another contest, and to have to fight over again the battle of 1884. He is evidently sincere in his let-ter. "Do you think the letter settles the question of Mr. Blaine's nomination?"

"It will undoubtedly make considerable change in the political field. What they will be it is easier to wait and see than attempt to prophesy. Of course, it strengthens very much the probabilities of the nomination of Mr. Sherman or Mr. Allison, but in what proportion for each it is impossible to say."

"I think he is in dead earnest," said Senator Hawley, "and that the letter will prevent his nomination. But political changes may alter the case. It is possible. His friends will feel regret, but they are a pretty lively set pf Republicans and not likely to be found sitting on the feace the next carneger."

that the tariff issue will be the strong feature of the next campaign?"

"It looked two months ago as if there would be an honest fight on the question of the tariff, and nothing would delight kepublicans more. But now it looks as if the Democratic leaders were crawfishing away from the point."

"What about Mr. Blaine's auguries of success for the Republican party?"

"I think them correct. I think, too, that the party is getting to be pretty well united. That is all I have to say on the subject," said Senator Hawley, in conclusion.

FRANK HATTON NOT SURFRISED.

FRANK HATTON NOT SURPRISED. To the Republican rank and file and to the majority of people in other parties the letter came as a surprise, but by the intimate friends of Mr. Blaine among the leaders in Republican councils the withdrawal has been expected for some little time. So said ex Assistant Postmaster-General Frank Hatton this morning to an Evenino World reporter. "And what effect," asked the reporter, "will Mr. Blaine's withdrawal have on the chances of other men mentioned as possible candidates?"

I don't think," replied Mr. Hatton, "that this withdrawal will have any personal effect of that sort, or that Mr. Blaine and his fol-of that sort, or that Mr. Blaine and his followers will go in a body to any one man. The coming convention is to be different from any which the party has ever held. It will be free from the finger-marks of an administration and from personal strife between leaders and factions.

"The man to be nominated, whoever he may be, will be the one who is thought best calculated to command the entire vote of the united party. The Republican party is either in the majority or the minority in this country. I believe it is in the majority, and the man nominated for President must be the one to bring it out. This same fact would have stood if Mr. Blaine had remained in the field."

Mr. Hatton had no doubt of Mr. Blaine's

Mr. Hatton had no doubt of Mr. Blaine's utmost sincerity in his action.

WHITELAW REID NOT IN THE TALL TOWER. A ride up into the shadow of the Tribune's tall tower brought to the reporter only the information that Mr. Whitelaw Reid was not downtown and that it was not probable that he would be down during the day. He might even go to his farm in Westchester County. It was not stated if this was because of the letter.

WILL HELP SHERMAN. President S. B. French, of the Police Board, said: "I regard the letter as a very able document and entirely characteristic of Mr. Blaine. I think it withdraws him abso-lutely from the field, and in my opinion makes John Sherman a favorite of the Re-publican party."

makes John Sherman a favorite of the Republican party."
Police Commissioner McClave was very non-committal. He said: "There are many Republicans who still believe that Blaine is the strongest candidate the Republicans can name, and should he not be before the convention the contest will undoubtedly be between Sherman and Sheridan."

THINKS BLAINE WILL BE THE NEXT PRESIDENT. Ex-Gov. Frederick Smythe, of New Hamp-shire, said: "I have not read the letter very carefully, but I think that James G. Blaine will be the next President of the United States. The letter will make him stronger as the people now know that he is not seek-ing the office and will not make an effort to secure the nomination.

SOME DEMOCRATIC OPINIONS. Mr. Bradley B. Smalley, member of the

Mr. Bradley B. Smalley, member of the National Democratic Committee from Vermont, said: "I think Mr. Blaine is afraid of being defeated. I do not think he would refuse to be a candidate if he thought he had a chance of being elected President."

Ex-Gov. Samuel T. Hauser, of Montana, Democrat, said: "Mr. Blaine bas a string attached to that letter."

Mr. Cord Meyer, member of the New York State Democratic Committee, said: "Everybody is asking, Does Blaine mean what he says in his letter?" I have talked with many prominent Democrats and they all look with suspicion upon the letter. It relieves Blaine of the charge that he is seeking the office and will move heaven and earth to secure the nomination and election. If he is offered the nomination by acclamation and it comes to him unsought, he will, in my opinion, take it." will, in my opinion, take it."

TOM PLATT'S VIEWS. Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt, boss of the Republican party in this State, said that he had been expecting some letter of the kind from Mr. Blaine. "Had he been a candidate," he added, "in my opinion he would have been nominated by acclamation."

What is Said Out of Town.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 13.—Senator Sherman said this morning he had anticipated some such action on the part of Mr. Blaine, and that was the reason he (Sherman) had entered the race for the Republican nomination. He said had Mr. Blaine decided to run again the Maine statesman would have swent the country. He was a man whom every Republican would delight to honor. Further publican would delight to honor. Further than this Mr. Sherman declined to talk.

Augusta, Me., Feb. 13.—Mr. Joseph H. Manley, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and confidential friend of Mr. Blaine, says:

"It does not change the situation. Mr. Blaine's friends have insisted that he was not a candidate. If, however, the Republican Convention believe Mr. Blaine is the man who can best unite the party and nominate him, I believe that he is too much of a patriot to decline. Mr. Blaine is grand in his loyaity to party. He believes its success is for the best interest of the country, Having once been the candidate, and having been unsuccessful he could not again seek the nomination. He must leave the party free to act. He has no right to decline any position the party may assign to him. If however, some other Republican than Mr. Blaine should be nominated, it will, in my judgment, make no difference in the vote of Maine. This is a Republican State and it will give its electoral vote to whoever shall be the nominee of the Republican National Convention."

John A. Sleicher, editor of the Evening Journal, said: "I am grieved and disappointed. Mr. Blaine is the strongest man we could name. He means what he saysthough. He is out of the race. If New York can unite upon a candidate, say Depew, Evarts or Hiscock, this State can control the convention. As things now stand, however, Sherman or Allison has the call. The withdrawal of Mr. Blaine makes Cleveland's chances for a renomination far less favorable. I believe Gov. Hill will capture the majority of the a renomination far less favorable. I believe Gov. Hill will capture the majority of the delegates from this State now, and as goes New York, so goes the convention."

Ex-Chairman Abell, Republican State Campaign Committee—Blame's letter makes him stronger than ever. I don't believe the party will permit him to withdraw. He will, I think, be compelled to run by the universal demand of all true Republicans.

Secretary of State Cook—Blaine does not decline the nomination as I understand it. No one was ever known to do that, that I know of. Maybe he wants to ascertain his strength, and chooses this means of doing so.

ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY.

George W. Guthrie, of Marison, Ill., Killed by Burglars.

PEPECIAL TO THE WORLD, Sr. Louis, Feb. 13.-A terrible and sensational tragedy, resembling in some of its features of mystery the recent assassinations of Millionaire Snell, of Chicago, and Lyman S. Weeks, of Brooklyn, was enacted at the little town of Marissa, Ill., yesterday, the victim being George W. Guthrie, one of the wealthiest men and best-known citizens of the southwestern part of the State.

The Guthrie family occupy an elegant suburban residence at Marissa. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Guthrie and other members of the family went to church, leaving Mr. Guthrie at home. ing Mr. Guthrie at home.

They returned from church about noon and a daughter of Mr. Guthrie entered his room. A horrible sight presented itself.

On the floor lay the lifeless body of her father, the carpet and his clothes saturated with blood from a bullet wound through the heart.

heart.

The horrified girl hastened to the other members of the family and told them of what she had discovered.

All suspected at first that Mr. Guthrie had committed suicide, as his own pistol lay upon the floor not far from his body.

No tenable reason why he should resort to self-slaughter, however, could be centred upon, and his relations, both business and otherwise, was satisfactory and pleasant.

The theory of suicide was soon dispelled by very direct developments establishing an attempt at safe robbery, with the sequel of murder.

Mrs. Guthrie, in prosecuting her examination of the surroundings in the room, discovered that a safe in which valuables are kept, and at times large sums of money, had been worked upon by burglars' drills, but had resisted the attempts of the cracksmen to effect an entrance before discovery.

Further search showed that Mr. Guthrie's pockets had been rifled of $35 in money which he is known to have had in them, a gold watch and chain and other articles.

which he is known to have had in them, a gold watch and chain and other articles.

From this fact it is reasoned that he had heard the noise made by the burglars at the safe in his room, went in with his pistod drawn, and was surprised by one of the robbers, probably standing guard at the door, overpowered, disarmed, killed by the burglars, his person hastily robbed, and that then his assessing flad.

The appearance of the room gave evidence of a struggle.

Efforts to find a clue to the murderers have been fruitless. An organized movement for their capture, including large rewards, are being formulated.

A ROW IN A CHURCH.

Three Prominent Members Arrested for Conspiracy Against the Pastor.

The congregation of the Emanuel Reformed Episcopal Church of Summit avenue, Jersey City, is in a state of great excitement over a quarrel between the pastor, the Rev. Walter Windeyer, and a majority of the vestry, whom he charges with having entered into a conspiracy to oust him from the pas-vestry, whom he charges with having entered into a conspiracy to oust him from the pastorship.

This majority, consisting of Messrs. Rivington. Defrietes, McMurray and Lavesey, demanded the pastor's resignation last June as the result of a quarrel over the selection of an organist. He retaliated by reading a petition signed by fifty-seven of the seventy-live members of the church, begging him not to go. He announced his intention of remaining.

Last night three of the four recalcitrant vestrymen attempted to prevent the pastor from entering the church. David W. Thompson, a Justice of the Peace, who belongs to the pastor's party, broke down the door and let the people in. He was arrested on a warrant for house-breaking, sworn out by the three vestrymen. Having procured bail before Justice Anderson he immediately issued warrants of arrest, in virtue of his official position, for Messrs. Rivington, Defrietes and McMurray for unlawful conspiracy.

They were arraigned to-day before Justice Thompson himself and were bailed to await the action of the Grand Jury. Rector Windeyer says that he will stick to his church. He has no intention of resigning.

The east-side branch of the Anti-Poverty Society will hold a meeting in the large hall of the Clarendon Hall building, in East Thirteenth street, or don Hall building, in East Thirteenth street, on Thursday evening. The manacers of the society have prepared for an entertainment on the occasion, which will no doubt prove very stractive. Dr. Metilynn, Miss Munier and the Concordia Chorus, Master Hofmann, the musical proligy, and Prof. Fred Lubin's Gypsy Mandoline Quartet are announced to appear. The hall is to be claborately decorated with the flags of all nations by Mr. Scharmann, the proprietor.

They were taken up carefully by the strikers and packed away on the dray in waiting. When all were down and stowed away the wagon moved away, followed by the shouts of the bystanders, to East Fifty-ninth street, where Manhaupt had established a new home.

The other tenants were dispossessed rapidly and without incident.

Manager Haas said that there was no objection on the part of the firm to the tenants remaining if they paid their rent. They did not care whether their tenants were cigarmakers, tailors or of any other trade,

A bureau for the benefit of members out of employment will probably be opened. Branches of the society will also be organized in different sections of the city and in the surrounding cities and towns.

One of the leaders of the society said to an Evening World reporter to-day that if the movement now going on in this city is successful—and she had no doubt that it would be—the organization would be extended throughout this and other States and a large national independent body of female wageworkers formed for mutual benefit and protection.

At 10.25 Thomas Hill, the fireman at the hotel went to the room of the deceased for the purpose of taking care of the fire. The door was opened slightly and the man entered. His gaze fell upon the form of the young man who was lying upon a lounge and from a wound in whose head blood was flowing.

Considerably startled, Hall dropped his coal scuttle and ran to the office, where he informed Landlord Worden. Chief Clerk Kelly immediately went to the room followed by the Rev. Dr. W. Leech, who was in the hotel. When Mr. Kelly reached the room, he found young Knickerbacker gasping for breath.

His hand grasped a Smith & Wesson self-cocking revolver of 32-calibre. A hole in his right temple, from which the blood was gushing, showed that the young man had taken his own life.

He continued to gasp for breath for thirty minutes after he was found, but he was unconscious all the time. Dr. Gardner was summoned, but the young man could not be aroused.

He had been melancholy for some days.

Henry Knickerbacker & Co, have been prominent bankers since 1860 and are now located at 15 New street, where they occupy the ground floor. Mr. Knickerbacker is the possessor of many millions and one of the richest bankers of "the street." He and his wife and two sons lived in a fine residence at 830 Fifth avenue.

He received three despatches from Saratogathis morning in quick succession. The first, dated 11.25 was from the proprietor of the Worden House. It said, briefly; "Your son is injured. Come immediately,"

The second was from a warm friend of Mr. Knickerbacker. It said: "I have just learned that Henry is injured. Am going right up."

Five minutes later a third despatch from another friend said: "Your son is dead. His body has been taken to the house of Gen. Batchelor."
